The great Giants centerfielder Willie Mays once said, "Youngsters of Little League can survive under-coaching a lot better than over-coaching."

"A Little League field is a place where excellence should always be applauded, but never expected." Stephen King, noted author and Little League volunteer

"The cream of the crop is destined to rise to the top regardless of how hard he or she is pushed at 9 or 10 years old." New York Yankees pitcher Mike Mussina, Little League International Board of Directors and three-sport athlete

"Baseball was made for kids, and grown-ups only screw it up." Bob Lemon (HOF)

73% of kids quit youth sports by age 13. Only about one kid per youth team will ever play high school baseball. You will coach one future Major Leaguer about every 641 seasons.
